STEWARDSHIP

“What profit would there be for one to gain the whole world and forfeit his life?” Jesus’ question in today’s Gospel challenges us to ask ourselves what we live for. Family? Friends? Power? Prestige? Wealth? Instead of these, He invites us to live for Him and for His Kingdom. The Christian Steward does and offers his/her gifts of Time, Talent and Treasure to show it. What do you live for?

The Stewardship of Treasure in the in-pew collection last weekend was $10,768. The Stewardship of Treasure for the month of August will appear in next Sunday’s bulletin. God bless your generosity in living for the Gospel. Electronic giving, WeShare, helps the parish better use these generous gifts.

1. Jeremiah 20:7-9

At this point in this book, Jeremiah had served as God's prophet for more than twenty years (his ministry lasted a total of forty years), enduring a great deal of opposition from the royal house and the Temple leadership. In fact, as this chapter began, Jeremiah had been scourged and placed in the stocks. Jeremiah complains that God has manipulated him, used him. He seeks to escape this call that has been given him. But deep down, he knows he cannot. Zeal for God's word burns deep within him and that, despite the consequences, his own security lies in God.

2. Romans 12:1-2

Paul refers to God's generous and never-failing love as the source of all the good a Christian does. Those who give themselves to God as living sacrifices of praise and worship hear and heed His word, accept His will, and are thus transformed and renewed by His grace.

3. Matthew 16:21-27

This incident follows immediately after the confession of faith heard in last Sunday's Gospel. In sharp contrast to that Gospel's divinely inspired response of Peter about Jesus' identity, today's response shows the full force of human nature. Jesus' declarations of last week notwithstanding, Peter exhibits the weakness of human nature in not understanding what Jesus' messiahship implies. The traditional ways of power, domination, wealth, prestige and influence are shunned by the Messiah and so must be by the disciple as well. The way of the cross, leading to glorification and exaltation, is for both the Master and the disciple.

REFLECTIONS FOR THE WEEK

1. Like Jeremiah, have you ever felt frustrated in your attempts to live out your faith?
2. Paul asks us not to "conform to this age." What do you think that means? Have you ever felt pressured to "conform," by family, friends, co-workers? Did you?
3. Can you think of a decision or a commitment you made for the sake of the Gospel that brought you hardship, suffering or rejection?
